RAILINGS

Are you tired of dealing with old, rusty railings that not only detract from the appearance of your home but also pose a safety hazard? Reliable Fence offers two superior solutions to replace those outdated railings: high-quality aluminum and PVC railing systems. Both options are designed to resist rust and corrosion, ensuring long-lasting durability and safety. Whether you prefer the lightweight strength and modern style of aluminum or the low-maintenance elegance of PVC, our railings are built to withstand the test of time while enhancing the beauty of your property.

Why Guard Rails Are Essential for Your Home

Prevent Falls and Injuries

- Falls account for 33% of non-fatal injuries at home (NSC).
- Guard rails can reduce stair fall injuries by 25%-50%.

Protect Children

- 8,000 children are treated daily for fall-related injuries (CDC). Guard rails help prevent these accidents.

Safeguard the Elderly

- 20% of falls in adults 65+ result in serious injuries (CDC). Guard rails reduce these risks significantly.

Comply with Building Codes

- Guard rails are required for surfaces 30 inches or higher to prevent falls and meet safety standards.

Reduce Liability

- Homes without guard rails are at higher risk for accidents and legal claims.

Protect Pets

- 1 in 4 pet injuries occur at home, often from falls. Guard rails keep pets safe on balconies or stairs.

Aluminum railings provide a sleek, contemporary look while being naturally resistant to weathering and rust, making them ideal for outdoor spaces. PVC railings, on the other hand, offer a classic aesthetic with minimal upkeep and lasting durability. Both options are easy to install in place of your old railings, ensuring a seamless upgrade without major disruptions. Don't let rusty railings continue to be a source of worry—choose Reliable Fence to transform your space with safe, stylish, and long-lasting railing systems.
